At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at 1/2 per cent.; last loan, 1/2;

Total sales of stocks to-day were 233,397 shares, including: American Sugar, 56,200; Burlington & Quincy, 29,900; Chicago Gas trust receipts, 11,300; Louisville & Nashville, 7,800; New York Central, 4,500; Northwest, 3,500; Omaha, 9,500; Northern Pacific preferred, 8,400; Reading, 11,700; Rock Island, 6,500; St. Paul, 29,600; New Jersey

The resulted from the decision of the Supreme | 2; red cherries, 90c@$1; strawberries, 90@95c; salassociations of which they are members have been practically disrupted by the exothers to withdraw. The decision itself securities other than the grangers and of the decision as to its effect on the other traffic associations before throwing over more stocks. The belief was entertained also that even though the existing rate and traffic associations should all prove to be under the decision, means might be found to maintain rates and still remain within the law. If failure to maintain rates was to work such disastrous consequences to railroad values as was urged in the arguments which induced holders of stocks to part with them, why should it be necessary to bind them by a contract which could be legally enforced as an only means of preventing them from destroying themselves. This question suggested to stockholders that the railroads might possibly refrain from cutting each others' throats. even if they were not under legal contract to do so. It was such arguments that induced some cessation of the selling movement after the first onslaught of the bears movement, each being somewhat affected by a peculiar cause. Sugar, on heavy purchases, Chicago Gas, also on large dealings, Leather preferred and Rubber preferred showed gains of 1 to 2 points. The opening raid on the grangers had resulted in losses of 1% in Burlington, 1% in Northwest, 14 in Rock Island, 1 in Omaha and % in St. Paul. The general list yielded fractionally, the loss reaching a point in the case of Lake Shore. New Jersey Central continued to be a focus of great speculative activity, varying over a point either way several times during the day, and with a final rally, which left its net decine only s. The bear attack on this stock resulted also in a decline in Reading of 1 and Reading first preferred 2, but without subsequent recovery. The final hour of trading witnesséd a renewal of liquidation in many stocks and carried prices down to near the lowest point of the day in most cases. Sugar lost 1%. Leather preferred 1% and Northern Pacific preferred 1%. The closing was weak, with severe net losses in nu-

to the best prices of the day. The indus-

Confusion Growing Out of a New Law. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: During the closing days of the last Legisature a bill was enacted which practically in the county treasurers' offices throughout the State. A copy of the act has been recomment as to its constitutionality and the probable action and duty of the treasurer-elect of this county. The act provides begin on the first day of January next fol-Section 2, Article 6, of the Constitution provides when the treasurer shall be elected and he shall continue in office two years, and shall not be eligible to the office more than four years in any period of six years. Section 3, Article 15, provides that any officer other than members of the General Assembly holding office under the Constitution or any law which may hereafter pass shall hold office until his successor shall be elected and qualified. In this county the present incumbent was elected at the November election of 1892, took his office Aug. 15, 1893, and will have served four years Aug. 15, 1897. His sucelection. The present incumbent, under the Constitution, is not eligible to hold office longer than Aug. 15, at which time his term will have expired and he will be ineligible to hold longer, having served four | hard winter, 79%c. Options opened easier, but years in six, and if the treasurer-elect finally rallied and were generally steady, but dull shall qualify and demand his office on that date he will be entitled thereto under the Constitution. An office is a right to exercise a public function and receive the fees and emoluments belonging thereto, whenever the right has been created by proper and adetion, emoluments and duties prescribed. The present incumbent must not only be eligible when he assumed the office. must centinue so during the period he holds over, and this he cannot do, for he cannot hold more than four years in six, and, being ineligible, a vacancy will therefore be created, and the act contains no provision for filling it. The term of the treasurer's office is fixed by the Constitution, and the Legislature has no right to lengthen or shorten it. It is claimed that the act passed does not shorten the term of the treasurer-elect, but it lengthens or extends affirmatively the office of an incumbent who is ineligible under the Constitution to hold longer than four years, and the term of the treasurer being expressly limited, the Legislature has no power to enact a law which would create a vacancy. The second section of the act provides that all laws or parts of laws in conflict shall be repealed. There are no laws or parts of laws in conflict. and hence the act undertakes to amend the Constitution by extending the term of the present incumbent. A similar act was passed in 1855, which the Supreme Court declared invalid, for the term of a treasurer is limited by the organic law of the State and cannot be changed or amended by the Legislature or a vacancy created. Liverpool and Berlin sent lower quotations for wheat at the opening and the weather here was favorable for the growing crop. Northwestern receipts were fairly liberal, and there was no flutter in the political wild beast show in Europe. Under such a combination an easier tone in wheat at the opening was to be expected. May, which closed at 72%@73c on the day before, opened with plenty of sellers at 72% and some at 72%c. It soon became rumored that 250,000 bushels had been sold yesterday in Duluth for export at opening of navigation, and that helped to arrest the downward tendency. The prevalence of crop damage reports was, however, a large element in the bullish factors, which turned sentiment a little in favor of confidence in | cluding 3,500 Australian, 250 Falkland islands and present prices. Trade was very dull, duller in fact than any of the dull days of late, and though, as can be seen, the news had a bullish tendency, not sufficient demand existed to even hold prices level. Market Chicago receipts were eight cars, against fifteen the similar day of the year before, Clearances from the principal Atlantic ports of wheat and flour were again very light, the total equaling 175,000 bushels. Closing cables reported the Liverpool de-cline for the day ½d per cental and Berlin ½ mark lower. With no substantial improvement in export demand or appearance of probable change in that respect in the near future, wheat sagged to 721/2672%c, and was selling at 72%@72% at the close. Corn was almost at a standstill throughout the whole session, the limit of the fluctuations being 1/8c. The duliness of Eggs steady; fresh near-by and Western, 10c. trade and the weakness of wheat neutralized the effect of light receipts and large export clearances, which to-day amounted to 854,000 bushels, and kept prices a shade under yesterday's figures. May opened a shade lower, at 24\2\alpha 24\5\c, sold at 24\2\c, and closed steady at the opening price. Oats experienced another dull session, interest in the market being fully as scant as yesterday. Local longs showed some disposition to sell early in the day, but it did not influence prices to any degree. Sea-board clearances were 169,000 bushels. May opened unchanged, at 17%@174c, sold at 17@17%c, and closed at 17%c. Provisions held firm at some advance during the greater part of the session, influenced by another small run of hogs. In the last fifteen minutes, however, the packers made a drive at the market and fairly knocked it off its pins, all the early advance being lost.
